

GlowTouch to offer openings: Louisville-based GlowTouch Technologies, will employ close to 400 persons in its unit here by April 2010. Speaking to reporters here on Friday, V Ravichandran, chief executive officer of the company, said more than 80% of the openings would be for locals. The technology company has developed a modern campus at Maryhill where currently more than 700 people are working.